PRINTMAKING WORKSHOP

Takayanagi Yutaka: Rebellious Prints

Thursday, November 2, 2023 • 1:30 - 4:30pm • Art School Room 101

Internationally known artist Takayanagi Yutaka leads a workshop on prints that rebel against the ukiyo-e Japanese woodblock tradition. Rather than using multiple woodblocks, Takayanagi coats found objects with multiple layers of color to produce unexpected, one-of-a-kind impressions. Students will learn the techniques seen in the exhibition The Exquisite Corpses of Takayanagi Yutaka.

ARTIST TALK

Seven Decades of Printmaking: The Journey of Takayanagi Yutaka

Sunday, November 5, 2023 • 2:00 - 3:30pm • Doris Duke Theatre

In conjunction with The Exquisite Corpses of Takayanagi Yutaka, on until December 3, 2023, this panel discussion will focus upon the artmaking process of Takayanagi, his education and exhibition experience, and his connection with Honolulu. Alongside the artist himself, panel participants will include Stephen Salel, Curator of Japanese Art, and Denise Karabinus, Executive Director of the Honolulu Printmakers.
